FINAL November Nugget - November 26

The following email was sent to the KYAE listserv.

How do I get my GED® diploma and transcript?

Kentucky test-takers do not have to call the KYAE office or take any action to get their diploma packets. Packets, which include a diploma, official transcript, and information about accessing an eTranscript, are automatically printed and mailed from the state office in Frankfort. Most packets are mailed in less than a week.

Any person who took the GED® test in Kentucky can get proof they earned a GED® credential for school or employment by submitting a request at www.GED.KY.gov. All requests are ready to be sent the same day or next business day. If applicants can't wait for documents to arrive by regular mail, they can request an electronic document or select expedited shipping for UPS delivery in one to two business days. All requests have to be submitted online—there is no walk-in or mail-in service.

GED123 Access Codes still work! If a student has a GED123 access code, the code can be used at www.GED.KY.gov to view scores and print an eTranscript.
